Front matter
Statement of Purpose:

Modern Psychological Studies (MPS) is a psychological journal devoted exclusively to publishing manuscripts by undergraduate students. We are continuously seeking quality manuscripts for publication, and will consider manuscripts in any area of psychology. Although MPS primarily focuses on results from experimental research, there are also publication opportunities for theoretical papers, literature reviews and book reviews.

MPS is edited and reviewed by undergraduate students at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga. We strive to make the journal submission process a learning experience and to encourage quality research. By placing the journal in the hands of undergraduates, the editorial staff at MPS wishes to emphasize to fellow undergraduates: meaningful, quality work, and communicating that work to interested students and professionals.
Table of Contents

The Relationship Between Sensation Seeking, Psychopathy, and Deception
Ashley D. Dickey ................................................................. 1

Effects of Disability Exposure on Implicit Association Test Scores
Jordyn R. Moon ........................................................................ 11

Who trusts Twitter? Openness to ideas as a predictor of trust and interest in news of an international natural disaster presented in Twitter and traditional on-line journalism formats
Emily J. Dunn, Greg Feldman, Alandra Klove, Christine Lowery, & Kelly Pelham .................................................. 23

The Relationship of Religiosity to Psychopathy: The predictive ability of religious orientation for stress and depression in college undergraduates
Robert B. Arrowood, J. Brian Pope, & Thomas Harlow ......................................................................................... 37

A Review of the Models of Schizophrenia: And a putative novel, more unified model
Michael Vogel Bronstein ............................................................ 47

What is MPS .................................................................................. 66

Subscription Information ............................................................. 67